A SINGULAR DREAM.

Creditable Persons Vouch That it Discovered a Crime.

How a Brother was Wakened by a Terrible Vivid Dream and the Crime the Dream Revealed to Him—A Sister Confirms the Strange Story by Discovering Imaginary Blood on Some Imaginary Money—At All Events a Very Peculiar Case.

HORNESVILLE, N. Y., Sept. 28.—The dead body of William Scott was found lying along the track of the Erie Railway a mile this side of the Ocean depot about midnight on Tuesday last week. There were bad cuts about the head, back and abdomen. A coroner's jury returned a verdict that Scott had been killed by the cars. On Thursday word was received from a brother of the dead man that he had dreamed on Tuesday night that his brother was murdered in a piece of woods and robbed. When the dreamer awoke he was so nervous that he was unable to sleep again during the night. He awoke from his dream between 11:30 o'clock and midnight. On the same day a sister of Scott's, who lives in Rochester, sent word to a friend in Ocean that she had a dream Tuesday night, in which she saw two men beat her brother to death in the woods and take money from his pockets. She awoke screaming, "Don't touch the money! There is blood on it!" She says she was frightened so that she arose from bed and struck a light. A clock on the bureau showed the time to be a little past 11:30. These singular declarations led to bringing to light the fact that on the day of William Scott's death he had sold some property, for which he was paid $1,000. In the afternoon he was seen in an out-of-the-way sa on kept by a man named O'Mara, in company with two strange men. He was intoxicated and exhibited a large roll of money, and boasted of the bargain he had made in the sale. Between 4 and 5 o'clock he was drunk that the men carried him out to a barn in the rear of the saloon and left him there. About 11:30 that night he was met by an acquaintance on the road leading from O'Mara's to the Erie depot, near a piece of woods. He was not seen alive again. There was no money in his clothes when found. It is noted now that there was no blood on the rails or anywhere about the track at the spot where he was found, and railroad men say that it would be next to an impossibility for a person to be hit by an engine or run over there without the fact being discovered at once either by the engineer or fireman. The belief is strong now that Scott was murdered and robbed and placed where he was found to give the impression that he had been killed by the cars. The matter is to be reinvestigated.

CLAXTON'S DIAMONDS.

Her Husband Sues the Continental Hotel Proprietor for $3,000.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 28.—Kate Claxton, the actress, through her husband, Charles A. Stevenson, has authorized the bringing of a suit against J. E. Kingsley & Co., proprietors of the Continental Hotel, for the recovery of $3,000 in return for diamonds stolen from her during the period of her recent engagement in the Walnut Street Theater. The actress claims that on the day of the robbery she entered the breakfast room of the hotel in company with her husband and placed a small bag containing the diamonds on the chair beside her. Three persons, including young Mr. Kingsley, saw her put the bag on the chair. No one but Mr. and Mrs. Stevenson sat at the table, and it was only approached by the colored waiters in the employ of the hotel proprietors. When Mrs. Stevenson had finished her meal and arose, the bag was gone, and the most diligent efforts of Pinkerton's detectives have failed to reveal its hiding place. It is charged that the hotel proprietors did not concern themselves about the lady's loss, and even slyly winked when people mentioned the theft, insinuating that the story of the robbery was concocted to advertise the actress. This so angered Mr. Stevenson that on Sunday he returned from Baltimore and instructed James H. Heverin to institute suit for the recovery of $3,000. The proprietors of the hotel were requested by letter to name their counsel, and in reply they expressed their surprise that legal measures had been employed, but named George Junkin as their attorney.

TEXAS RACE TROUBLES.

Contents of an Attacker's Diary Found by a Detective.

MARSHALL, TEX., Sept. 28.—The race excitement which recently existed here has been revived again by the publication of the contents of a memorandum-book picked up at the passenger depot by a man claiming to be one of Pinkerton's detectives, and turned over to the police authorities of this city. The memorandum contained in the book are as follows: "Henry Coleman's books, Chicago, September 2, 1883.—Left Marshall for Mineola, September 10, to make up a lodge; found all my people ripe for a change; found a few good Republicans, but they were so bulldozed that they were afraid to work, and only one white man who would undertake to organize my people. I had to promise him $200, with $50 cash down, to go to work. He is a hard case, I think, but will serve us all right. He is a member of the aldermen, and is above suspicion by the whites. He lives on the edge of the town, and can easily get out to hold meetings. We held two meetings—one at Rinkley's, one mile from town, and another on Sabine river bridge, and had a large crowd from across the river. Austin Randall spoke to the crowd, as did also our white brother. He is bound to us, as his election to any office depends on the colored men to vote him. I think there will be no difficulty in getting the men together, and make a big strike by the 1st of October. I went from Mineola to Hawkins to John Reed's, when all was getting to work in the good cause of redeeming ourselves from slavery and the Democratic party. I can get all the money I want, and find many warm friends in my travels all ready and willing to give me all the aid I want. Silas Johnson, of Marshall, is a good worker, and I must get him to go back to Mineola, as he is a warm friend of the blacks and can watch Thomas in his work and aid him in organizing my people. We have to look sharp, as the whites are on the lookout, but we will beat them yet. I must get back to Shreveport as soon as I can, as we must have a big turn out over there. Sam Rigley and Johnson will go with me. I have sent Henry Pickard to Terrell and Dallas, they must be looked out for. In Terrell all is ready.

ABOUT A CORPSE.

Shall It Be Buried in a Catholic or Protestant Cemetery?

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 28.—The injunction obtained on Monday from Judge Finletter by Mr. George Scott restraining Mrs. Mary Reilly, of No. 235 Fairmount avenue in this city, from burying his daughter Rebecca, who died in Mrs. Reilly's house last Sunday, in a Catholic cemetery, came up duly for argument before His Honor. Mrs. Reilly's attorney was not ready to go on, and the judge postponed the hearing until morning, meanwhile giving permission to have the body placed in the receiving vault of the Roman Catholic Church of the Immaculate Conception, corner Front and Canal streets. In his affidavit Mr. Scott alleges that he is a Protestant in religion, and that his daughter up to the time of her death was of the same faith; that being desirous of burying his child according to the rites of the Protestant Church, he had demanded the body of Mrs. Reilly, but that the latter had refused to surrender it unless the sum of $150, avowed to be due for board by deceased at the time of her death, be paid, and that Mrs. Reilly had declared that the body would be interred by her in the Catholic cemetery according to the ritual of the Catholic Church. Mrs. Reilly denies that she refused to give up the body until a board bill was paid. She says the girl joined the Catholic Church four weeks before her death and expressed a wish on her death-bed to be buried according to the rites of the church, and this was the reason she refused to surrender the body.

A BOY'S EXPERIMENT.

He Knows All About It Now and is Satisfied.

MATAMORAS, Pa., Sept. 28.—George Huston, of Monticello, N. Y., is thirteen years old. He attempted to have some fun with a cow. The animal kept switching her tail while George was milking, to his discomfort. Being of an inventive turn of mind, he tied the cow's tail fast to his leg, and went on with his work. The flies, in the meantime, were getting in their fine work on the cow, and finally she shifted her position suddenly. This made the tension upon her tail pretty strong. She planted one foot suddenly, and without warning, in the pit of George's stomach, and began to run about the barnyard. The rope with which George tied the tail to his leg was good and strong, and wherever the cow went George went. Mrs. Charles Smith happened to pass at the time and succeeded in quieting the animal until George untied himself. He was badly shaken up and terribly bruised, and he will not fool with cows after this.

THEN AND NOW.

How the Breckenridges Went to College.

TRENTON, N. J., Sept. 28.—Among the entries this year at the Lawrenceville High School is a son of Confederate General Breckenridge, who came to the school accompanied by his father a few days ago from his home in Kentucky, forty-eight hours being required for the trip. Sixty-seven years ago Robert J. Breckenridge, then seventeen years old, who afterward became a reverend doctor and the father of the General, in company with a nephew, John Breckenridge Grayson, made the same trip from Kentucky to Lawrenceville for the same purpose, Breckenridge preparing at the school for Princeton College and Grayson for West Point. This trip had to be made entirely on horseback, and it took the lads twenty-seven days to make it.

A Cowardly Murder.

SALT LAKE, U. T., Sept. 28.—In Park City, a man named Olsen went into a saloon, flourished a knife, and declared his ability to clean out the house. No one responded. He advanced on a bystander named Christensen, who had said nothing, and stabbed him in the abdomen, letting out his bowels. He will die. Some four years ago Olsen shot Dan Martin in Park City, and escaped the penalty of the law, but he is a loafer and noted ruffian, and when drinking is more like a wild beast than a human being. He is under arrest and is threatened with lynching.

Freight Cars Robbed.

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 28.—Several through freight cars from the United States to different points in Canada have been broken open within the past week before reaching their destination and a large quantity of freight has been stolen. Detectives are at work on the case in the interest of the Canadian Pacific Railway, the cars having passed over their line after being landed from the ferry at Brockville. Experienced hands have evidently been at work, as the United States government seals have been removed and replaced with a fac simile that defies detection.

DISGUSTING CASE.

Inhuman Treatment of a Boy by His Uncle.

Attempting to Turn an Honest Penny Through His Nephew's Death—One of the Most Disgusting Exhibitions of Parsimony as Yet on Record—The Present Address of the Meanest Man Now in America.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Hobert Henry, the sexton of Grace Church Chapel, in High street, Brooklyn, and an undertaker, was arrested on the charge of making a fraudulent claim to an accounting officer of the Treasury Department. Henry claimed to be the guardian of John Conroy, a fourteen-year-old boy, who died May 9, 1876. About the time of his death certificates reached Colonel McLeer, who was then Pension Agent, granting pensions to the boy and his sister Theresa. Colonel McLeer then paid Henry $183, the girl's portion, telling him that as the boy was dead only the expenses of his last sickness and burial could be paid. To this Henry objected, excitedly admitting he incurred but $8 for the expenses of the boy's death and burial, including a charge for the use of his own wagon.

Colonel McLeer made an investigation of the matter, which resulted, he says, in his learning that neither the boy nor girl lived with or was supported by Henry. "When the little boy was taken sick," said Colonel McLeer, "he applied to his uncle for permission to enter the house and lie down. He was driven from the door, and after wandering about for some hours was permitted by Henry to sleep up stairs in the stable on the hay. That was a terrible night for the poor boy—as afterward described by the stableman. The next morning he came down stairs still suffering, and as Henry had arrived he offered the boy a drink of water. There was no doubt of the poor boy's trouble from this moment. That terrible disease, hydrophobia, had seized him. The boy ran out of the stable and was hunted down by the crowd of men and boys in pursuit. He fell upon the sidewalk exhausted. An ambulance was summoned and he was taken to the hospital, where he died that night. Henry has no claim for reimbursement on account of last sickness—doctors' bill or burial—except the charge for the use of his own wagon in carrying the body from the hospital to the cemetery, and I might add, the opening of the grave of the boy's mother. The coffin was a poor-house coffin."

Henry subsequently put in a claim for $120, which he alleged he had disbursed on account of the nephew's last illness and burial.

IRISH TROUBLES.

The Recent Orange-Fenian Disturbances.

DUNAGANNON, Ireland, Sept. 28.—A home rule meeting and Orange meeting was held, but the police prevented a collision. No serious rioting occurred, although there were some disorders, and a number of arrests were made. Despite the wet weather the Orange demonstration was very largely attended. All the streets leading to the place of meeting were guarded by police and soldiers. A resolution was passed pledging those present to resist the treasonable aims of the National League, and denouncing the establishment of ultramontane communist tyranny in Ireland. The Nationalist meeting passed resolutions expressing confidence in Parnell, demanding home rule, and claiming that the land act is a failure. Healy, O'Connor and O'Brien, members of Parliament, were the principal speakers. At the conclusion of the meeting they were escorted to the railroad station by the soldiers and police. O'Connor was attacked as Portadown, county Antrim, by Orangemen, but escaped unhurt.

TELEGRAPH WAR.

The Santa Fe Line and the Western Union Company.

DALLAS, Tex., Sept. 28.—The Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe Railroad Company has succeeded in completing their telegraph line through from Cleburne to Dallas in spite of the injunction of the Western Union Telegraph Company, thus completing a wire along its entire route. The Western Union based its injunction on an alleged contract between it and the old Chicago, Texas and Mexican Central Railroad before it was purchased by the Santa Fe Railroad, by which the Western Union was to bear a part of the expense of erecting and maintaining the telegraph line, and to share equally in the profits. The purchasers refused to recognize such contract, and the officials of the road succeeded in dodging the officers and preventing service until the wire was completed.

Arrival of Forty Scotch Ponies.

HALIFAX, Sept. 28.—On the Allan steamer Austrian, which has just arrived from London, are forty Scotch mountain ponies, including six stallions and thirty-four mares. They are all about twelve hands high and in color include blacks, grays, roans, chestnuts and bays. They present a rough appearance after their voyage, which made them resemble Sable Island ponies, though smaller, but after a few days' rest and cleaning up, they will look much better. Twenty-eight of them will be sent to Boston, and two of the stallions and ten mares sold here.

Seizure of Counterfeit Notes.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Agents of the secret service have seized at Duluth plates for printing counterfeit $10 United States silver certificates; also $10 notes on the Bank of Montreal, Canada.

A FEMALE BIGAMIST.

Ignorance of the Law Pleaded by a Woman With Two Husbands.

KINGSTON, N. Y., Sept. 28.—A sensational trial took place at Rosendale, near this city. Mary E. Davenport, an attractive young woman, was arrested on a charge of bigamy, preferred by her husband, William Davenport. They were married nearly five years ago, at Newpaltz, in this county, but their married life was unhappy, resulting in the wife separating from him about six months ago. A few days ago he was informed that she had married a man named Lewis L. Brundage, of Grahamsville, this State, and he caused her arrest. At the hearing, the prisoner, who is twenty-one years old, asserted that she married Davenport when she was but fifteen, and was shamefully treated by him. She professed ignorance of the law in the matter, and declared that her husband was again married, and that she had the same rights. She was held to await the action of the Grand Jury.

GHASTLY BANQUET.

Condemned Murderers Eating Their Own Bodies.

RICHMOND, Va., Sept. 28.—R. King, J. Evans and S. Younger, three negroes, were hanged at Chatham at noon. A few days ago King and Evans sold their bodies to a physician for $10 each. Younger would not sell his. He said he considered $10 too little. King and Evans upon receiving the money gave a fine dinner to a few friends at Canter's Hotel. Roast pig and roast beef constituted the first choice. The bill of fare wound up with wines and cigars. The officer and guard sat near the festive board. The condemned men confessed their guilt at the banquet and afterward recanted. They confessed again, and there is no doubt as to the guilt of all of them. The execution was private, in the jail.

CATTLE RANGES.

The Effect of the Recent Drought in Texas.

GALVESTON, Tex., Sept. 28.—A leading stockman, in expressing his views of the effects of the drought on the stock interest, says that the prospects for the stock men are splendid. Before the rains the fear was that it would not rain in time for the grass to get a good growth before frost, but now the winter grass will be better than it was last year. It will be fresher and less coarse and hard, yet abundant, and for the grass is growing marvelously, and frost will not come for weeks yet. Cattle are not to be called in good order at present, but they are picking up rapidly on the fresh, nutritious grass. Authorities predict that the range will be greatly benefited during several years by the late drought.

AWFUL ACCIDENT.

C. & Q. Viaduct at Chicago Demolished.

CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—The viaduct of the Burlington & Quincy Railroad, crossing the Chicago River into the Grand Central Depot, has just been demolished by a passing steamer. Several teams and private equipages, caught on the structure, were carried down with it, and a number of people are reported fatally hurt. It is feared others are buried in the debris. An immense crowd gathered on both sides of the river.

The Rose Ambler Murder.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Sept. 28.—At the Rose Ambler murder inquiry, Professor White, of the Yale Medical School, testified that he had made a microscopic examination of the carriage cushion belonging to Lewis. He found nothing to indicate the presence of blood. The hair found under Rose Ambler's finger nails was human hair, such as is found on the back of a man's hand or wrist.

Blaine Leases His Washington House.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 28.—The Star says: Hon. James G. Blaine has leased his new and magnificent residence on Dupont Circle to Mr. L. Z. Leiter, of Chicago, for a term of years, who will take possession this fall. Ex-Secretary Blaine and family will probably pass the winter in Washington, however, as he is almost compelled to finish his book here.

An Old Agent's Resignation.

JOLIET, Ill., Sept. 28.—H. N. Marsh, the first agent of the Rock Island Railroad Company at this place, and who has filled that position steadily since 1852, resigned. He will interest himself in the construction of a new Eastern railroad connecting through this point. His sage counsel and ripe railroad experience will be of vast benefit to the young railway enterprise.

The Journey With DeLong's Body.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—It is expected at the navy department that Lieutenant Harleer, who was sent to Siberia to assist in the Jeannette search, and who was afterward ordered to bring to America the bodies of Lieutenant DeLong, Dr. Ambler and Jerome Collins, will leave Irkutsk about the 1st of November next, and will reach the United States with the bodies some time in January.

McDermott Seared.

LIVERPOOL, Sept. 28.—It is stated that James McDermott, who was recently ordered to be discharged from custody, refused to quit the prison, unless police protection is afforded him, as he fears he will be murdered unless the authorities make provision for his safety.

A Prize Fight Prevented.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—A battle between Johnny Stiles, Chicago, and Nixey Lovell, of Liverpool, was prevented by the city police.

PECK'S BAD BOY AND HIS PA.

He Breaks his Pa of Mashing Female Clerks—The Minister Explains Daniel in the Lion's Den With a Dog, and Loses Part of His Pants.

Peck's Sun.

"What is this I hear about your father creating a panic in a dry goods store," said the grocery man to the bad boy, as he took a butter tryer and run it into a pumpkin a few times. "They tell me that he had about a hundred female clerks treed on the shelves, and on the counters, and all of them screaming bloody murder, and that a floor walker hit him over the head with a roll of paper cambric, and somebody turned in a fire alarm. How was it?"

"Well, if you will keep watch for pa, at the door, I will tell you about it," said the boy. "Somebody has told pa that I was at the bottom of the whole business, and when a man loses confidence in his boy, and rolls up a trunk strap and carries it habitually, it stands a boy in hand to keep his eye peeled. You see, pa has been in a habit lately of going to the store a good deal and lallygagging with the girl clerks. Any girl that will smile on pa, and look sweet, catches him, and he would sit on a stool in front of the counter ten hours a day, pretending to want to buy some kind of fringe, or corsets, or something, and he would fairly talk the arm off the girls. Ma didn't like it at all, and she told pa he ought to be ashamed of himself, 'cause the girls was only making a fool of him, and all the people in the store were laughing at him, but pa said for her to shut her yawn, and he kept on trying to find excuses to go to the store. Ma told me about it, and she felt real sorry, and by jinks it made me mad to see an old man, old enough to have gout or paralysis, going around mashing clerks in a store, and I told ma if she would let me I would break pa up in that sort of business, and she told me to go ahead and make him jump like a box car. So 'tother day ma gave pa a piece of ribbon to match, and a corset to change for a larger size, and a pair of gloves to return because the thumb of one of 'em ripped off, and told him to buy four yards of baby flannel, and see how much it would cost to have her seal-skin cloak relined, and to see if her new hat was done. Pa acted as though he didn't want to go to the store, but ma and me knew that he looked upon it as a picnic, and he blacked his boots, and changed ends with his cuffs, and put on his new red necktie, and shaved himself, and fixed up as though he was going to be married. I asked him to let me go along to carry the packages, and he said he didn't mind if I did go. You have seen these inky rubber rats they have at the rubber stores, haven't you? They look so near like a natural rat that you can't tell the difference unless you offer the rubber rat some cheese. I got one of those rats and tied a fine thread to it, with a slip-noose on the end, and when pa got into the store I put the slip-noose over the hind button of his coat-tail, and put the rat on the floor, and it followed him along, and I saw it looked so natural I wanted to kick it. Pa walked along smiling, and stopped at the ribbon counter, and winked at a girl, and she bent over to see what he wanted, and then she saw the rat, and she screamed and crawled up on the shelf where the boxes were, and put her feet under her, and said, 'take it away, kill it,' and she trembled all over. Pa thought she had gone into a fit 'cause she was paralyzed on his shape, and he turned blue, and went on, 'cause he didn't want to kill her dead; and as he walked along, the rat followed him, and just as he bowed to four girls who were standing together, talking about the fun they had at the exposition the night before, they saw the rat, and they began to yell, and climb up things. One of them got on a stool and pulled her clothes tight around her ankles, so a live rat couldn't have got in her stocking, let alone a rubber rat, and the girls all squealed just like when you tickle them in the ribs. Pa he looked scared, as though he was afraid he was breaking them all up with his shape, and he kept on, and another flock of girls saw the rat, and they jumped up on the counter and sat down on their feet, and yelled 'rat.' Then the others yelled 'rat,' and in a minute about a hundred girls were getting up on things, and saying 'shoo,' and one of them got on a pile of blankets, and the pile fell off on the floor with her, and the men had to dig her out. Pa's face was a study. He looked at one girl and then another, and wondered what was the matter, and finally the floor walker came along and seen what it was, and he took pa by the collar and led him out doors, and told him if he ever came in there again he would send the police after him. I had gone by the time pa got out on the outside walk, and he picked up the rubber rat and found it was hitched to his coat, and he went right home. Ma says he was so mad that he stuttered, and she thinks I better board around for a day or two. She tried to reason with pa that it was intended for his good, to show him that he was making a fool of himself, but he did not look at it in that light. Say, do you think it was wrong to break him up that way? He was going wrong entirely."

"O, I don't know. You and your ma are the best judges. But I would have liked to see them girls climbing up the side of the store. But what is the trouble with the minister?" said the grocery man. "He was in here this morning with the tail of his black coat sewed up, and when I asked him to set down he said he was standing up almost entirely now, and when I asked him if he had seen you lately, he said he had, to his sorrow, and he never wanted to see you again. I hope you have not done anything you will be sorry for."

"It wasn't me at all. It was Duffy's dog," said the boy, as he broke out with a laugh. "You see, the minister felt as though he had been cross to me, when I asked questions of him, and he met me on the street and apologized, and said, hereafter he would try to show a christian spirit, and would answer any questions I might ask him. So I began to ask him how he thought it was that Daniel had such control over the lions, when they cast him into the den. I told him I thought Daniel had chloroform on his handkerchief, and when the lions got a sniff of it they didn't want any Daniel in theirs, but he said that wasn't it. He said it was in the power of man over the brute creation, and showed the efficacy of prayer. He said Daniel prayed three times every day, and then looked the lions right in the eye, and a lion wouldn't have gall enough to eat a man that looked straight in his eye. To illustrate, he said he could look a vicious dog right in the eye and the dog would turn tail and run, and just then we passed Duffy's and the dog barked, and growled, and the minister said he would demonstrate to me the power of the human eye over the brute, and he went right into Duffy's yard. Well, I knew that dog, 'cause Duffy used to raise melons, and I went right up a tree. I didn't want that dog to think I was trying to play any Daniel business on him, because every little while Duffy has to take a file and pry pieces of pants out of that dog's teeth, so I got up on a limb. The dog looked at the minister a minute, and the minister looked at the dog, and when the dog began to lick his chops I says to myself, 'Daniel, you better be getting hence,' but Daniel didn't get hence till it was everlastingly too late. But I guess he would have saved his coat if he hadn't tried to pull the dog over the picket fence. The minister is usually a very deliberate man, but when the dog began to tangle his teeth up in his coat tail, he felt that it was good to be somewhere else, and he begun to go away to look some other dog in the eye. I guess Duffy's dog is not the right kind of a dog to look in the eye. I think some dogs is different about being looked in the eye. The minister looked like a flying trapeze performer when he come over that fence. They needn't tell me he never belonged to a gymnasium, 'cause he couldn't get over a fence that way, and always have been a good little boy who never stole melons. I could tell by the way he got over the fence that his neighbors used to raise melons when he was a boy. Well, Duffy was taking a nap, but he woke up and came out and called the dog off, and the minister went off with his hand on where his coat was tore and when Duffy chained up the dog I came down? I am not yet convinced about that Daniel business, and until the minister demonstrates it I shall hold to the chloroform theory. And so the minister wouldn't sit down. I thought that dog's teeth had been filed."

The present rise in Kahawha will bring about a half million bushels of coal to the mouth of that stream. There are about seventy-five barges, drawing from thirty inches to five and a half feet, to come down. The rise will not make more than four feet of navigable water in the Ohio; consequently not more than 200,000 bushels of this coal can come out.

JOHN W. GARRETT, the Baltimore railroad king, has received the four white camels sent him by his royal brother, Umberto, of Italy, in exchange for a horse. It is understood that the Italian King has accepted Mr. Garrett's invitation to come over and spend a month with him, and next January, if his creditors do not interfere, His Majesty will arrive in Baltimore. Mr. Garrett's intention now is to trade the King a fine Durham bull for a red Maltese Jack.

Prof. Wheeler played a number of select polka and schottish medleys, with the assistance of Miss Payton on the new Shoninger, which elicited much applause.

Relief Meeting.

The citizens of Maysville are urgently asked to attend a meeting at the Court-house this (Saturday) evening at half-past seven o'clock to devise means for the relief of the people made homeless and destitute by the fire on Hord's Hill Thursday. It is an occurrence that appeals strongly to public sympathy, and it is necessary that such sympathy should be manifested practically and immediately.

It has been considered best that a public meeting should be held in order to arrange that relief may be given systematically and equally to all the sufferers. The meeting should be well attended, and the donations as liberal as it is possible to make them. We hope every person in the city will make it a point to aid in such a worthy movement.

NEPTUNE Hall is to be improved.

SCARLET fever still prevails at Flemingsburg. Two new cases are reported.

Mr. D. NORRIS, of Germantown, has a hen hatched on the 10th of last March that is now the proud mother of eleven chicks.

Mrs. SAMUEL GRAY, of Cowan, Fleming county, was found dead in her bed a few days ago. She was seventy-five years old.

Mr. SHAEFFER and a force of laborers are at work to-day repairing the water main at the corner of Limestone and Second streets.

The premium crop of tobacco in Fleming county was grown by Mr. Lewis T. King, and amounted to about eighteen thousand pounds.

The ladies will be interested to know that A. R. Glascock & Co. have just received a full stock of Jerseys of all kinds. Many of them are of entirely new styles.

The members of the Confederate Survivors' Association are requested to meet promptly at the hour named in the notice elsewhere, in order not to interfere with the relief meeting, which will also be held this evening.

Don't forget the relief meeting to-night. The people it is designed to aid lost not only their homes but all of their household property beside, and they are utterly destitute. The case is one worthy of the greatest liberality.

When symptoms of malaria appear in any form take Ayer's Ague Cure at once to prevent the development of the disease, and continue until health is restored, as it surely will be by the use of this remedy. A cure is warranted in every instance.

C. S. A.

The Confederate Survivors' Association will meet to-night (Saturday) in the quarterly court room at 7 o'clock. Members are requested to attend promptly at the hour. J. M. FRAZEE, President.

C. J. HALL, Secretary.

The street cars yesterday carried six hundred passengers. The business at any time has never amounted to less than five hundred and fifty fares, and the average since the commencement has been considerably more than double that. The enterprise has carried with it the cordial good will of the people, which has been thoroughly merited. The managers have been polite and obliging on all occasions and have done every thing possible for the convenience of the public. There is not the slightest doubt that the venture is a successful one.

The Churches.

Rev. A. Boring will preach at the M. E. Church at Chester to-morrow afternoon at three o'clock.

Rev. S. H. Chester, pastor of the Southern Presbyterian Church, who has been on a visit to friends in the south for several weeks past, has returned home and will occupy the pulpit of the Third street church to-morrow morning and evening.

There will be preaching at the M. E. Church to-morrow morning and evening, by the pastor, Rev. A. Boring. The subject of the morning sermon will be based on Acts 1st and 8th. The evening text will be taken from Matthew 3d and 10th. The classes will meet at two p. m.

Mr. Wood Pogue is studying theology at Lane Seminary with a view to entering the ministry, a calling we are satisfied he will honor.

Since the inauguration of the internal revenue system in 1862 the grand total paid into the Treasury amounts to over $3,000,000,000, of which Kentucky paid $147,000,000. But five States exceed the amount paid in by our own State—New York, Illinois, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Massachusetts.

The tenacity with which people abide by their faith in Ayer's Sarsaparilla can only be explained by the fact that it is the best blood medicine ever used, and is not approached in excellence by any new candidate for public favor.

MIDDLETON-SOPER.

A Wedding of Well-known Kentuckians at Georgetown.

Commercial Gazette.

One of the prettiest weddings of the season took place last Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, at the Christian Church, Georgetown, Ky., the Rev. R. M. Gano officiating. The bride was a charming Blue Grass Belle, Miss Lula Soper, daughter of Mr. Robert Soper, of Georgetown, and the groom Mr. G. W. Middleton, a Kentuckian by birth, but for several years a resident of Denver, Colorado, where he is interested in mining and other operations. The church was beautifully decorated, the central aisle, down which the procession came, being barred by a floral gate, the silken ribbons of which two little pages in court costume, Masters Brackenridge Grigsby and Noah Burch unfasted to admit the bridal train. First, came the brides, then two groomsmen, Mr. H. C. Mullen, of Cincinnati, and Mr. W. G. Craig, of Georgetown; then the bridesmaids, Miss Anna Stockton, of Maysville, and Miss Laura Hamilton, of Georgetown, followed by the groom and his best man, Mr. W. K. Kinkead, of Denver, and last the bride and her first bridesmaid, Miss Lizzie Hazgin, of Scott county. The groomsmen filed to the right, the bridesmaids to the left, leaving the happy pair side by side in the center of the chancel. The ceremony was brief, but impressive, and at its conclusion the bridal party and a few immediate friends adjourned to the residence of the bride's parents, where kisses and congratulations were bestowed, and a handsome collation was served. The bride wore an exquisite train of cream-tinted satin, over a petticoat of white brocade plush. The bodice was trimmed with point lace and knots of orange blossoms, and the same flowers formed a coronet for the bridal veil. Her ornaments were diamonds, the groom's gift, consisting of a superb crescent brooch and solitaires. The bridesmaids—three lovely girls—were dressed alike, in cream-tinted mull with garniture of Spanish lace and carried bouquets of roses. The bridegroom was numerous and beautiful. Mr. and Mrs. Middleton are en route to Denver, their future home, and the good wishes of the entire community follow them. Among those present at the reception besides the bridal party already named were the fathers, Messrs. Milton Smith, and Frank Clary, Mrs. Kate Simmons and Mrs. Benj. Roberts, and Miss Lillie Brown, of Lexington; Miss Belle Graves, of Versailles; Mr. Robert Stockton and a few others.

Fatal Boiler Explosion in Albany, New York.

Three Men Instantly Killed and Several Seriously Injured—Three Vessels Lying Alongside Totally Wrecked—Tons of Metal Hurled Hundreds of Feet into the Air.

ALBANY, Sept. 28.—Early in the morning the boiler of the steamer J. S. Robinsons, which lay at the foot of Westerlo street, exploded with frightful force, instantly killing Capt. George S. Warner and the fireman, Wm. Cleary, and seriously injuring Fred. Tinslar, the engineer, who was blown into the water and narrowly escaped drowning, and Willard Durand and Melville Ryan, deck hands. Richard Van Zandt, son of Captain Van Zandt, of the tug Cora, from New Baltimore, lying alongside the Robinsons, was also injured. Captain Robinson, of the Hattie M. Betts, was blown from his pilot house on to the wharf and severely injured. The Betts, which lay at the stern of the Robinsons, was damaged $1,000. The Cora, alongside, was a total wreck, and the C. P. Grout, lying ahead of the Robinsons, had her joiner work carried away and machinery damaged. The Robinsons sank immediately, carrying with it the body of Cleary the fireman. One section of the boiler, weighing two or three tons, was hurled 400 feet against the top story of a three story building, crushing in a portion of the wall. Another section weighing nearly a ton crushed in the roof of the coal barge of E. M. Downing, and still another section was hurled to the rear of the cabin of the coal boat Apollo, and tearing away the roof before it, fell into the river. Buildings were shaken, windows shattered, and general consternation prevailed in the vicinity. The exploded boiler was built by Robert Livingston, of this city, in 1882.

THE NEWSPAPER WAR.

Rumor that the Herald Will Reduce Its Price to One Cent.

New York, Sept. 28.—It was public gossip among the newsdealers during the night that James Gordon Bennett had cabled from Europe in a certain contingency to reduce the price of the Herald to one cent, and that it would probably be done on Sunday, and possibly earlier. About the Herald office it was said the paper could very well afford to be given away, its advertisements being quite sufficient to yield a net sum of $2,000 a day above the cost of publication. As a result of the action of the newsdealers in refusing to sell the paper for less than three cents, it is said that the Herald is prepared in an emergency to start pony wagon and express routes of its own and leave the newsdealers out in the cold. There is a bitter feud among the old four cent papers. It is again rumored that the Sun will reduce its price.

Railroad Wreck.

DULUTH, Minn., Sept. 28.—On the St. Paul & Duluth road, a Northern Pacific engine and St. Paul & Duluth freight train collided through the carelessness of Conductor Frazer. Both engines and all the cars were wrecked. Fireman Wallace was fatally injured, and Fireman Ludlow, of the freight, and several others unknown seriously injured.

Rev. Father Wilds' EXPERIENCE.

The Rev. Z. P. Wilds, well-known city missionary in New York, and brother of the late eminent Judge Wilds, of the Massachusetts Supreme Court, writes as follows:

"78 E. 54th St., New York, May 16, 1882. MESSRS. J. C. AYER & CO., Gentlemen: Last winter I was troubled with a most uncomfortable itching humor affecting more especially my limbs, which itched so intolerably at night, and burned so intensely, that I could scarcely bear any clothing over them. I was also a sufferer from a severe catarrh and catarrhal cough; my appetite was poor, and my system a good deal run down. Knowing the value of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, by observation of many other cases, and from personal use in former years, I began taking it for the above-named disorders. My appetite improved almost from the first dose. After a short time the fever and itching were allayed, and all signs of irritation of the skin disappeared. My catarrh and cough were also cured by the same means, and my general health greatly improved, until it is now excellent. I feel a hundred per cent stronger, and I attribute these results to the use of the SARSAPARILLA, which I recommend with all confidence as the best blood medicine ever devised. I took it in small doses three times a day, and used, in all, less than two bottles. I place these facts at your service, hoping their publication may do good. Yours respectfully, Z. P. WILDS."

The above instance is but one of the many constantly coming to our notice, which prove the perfect adaptability of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA to the cure of all diseases arising from impure or impoverished blood, and a weakened vitality.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

cleanses, enriches, and strengthens the blood, stimulates the action of the stomach and bowels, and thereby enables the system to resist and overcome the attacks of all Scrofulous Diseases, Eruptions of the Skin, Rheumatism, Catarrh, General Debility, and all disorders resulting from poor or corrupted blood and a low state of the system.

PREPARED BY Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

Sold by all Druggists; price $1, six bottles for $5.
